

Introduction to Base

You use Novapoint Base to create and edit Quadri models, either locally (single-user) or using Quadri in a private cloud, collaborating with others.

You further use Novapoint Base to create all the tasks you want to solve, and you can then use Novapoint design modules to perform these tasks, and thus to build up a complete model of the project.