

New Situation Modelling

Modelling of new situation is done mostly inside AutoCAD, by various Novapoint design modules (or by tools from other vendors, typically stored to dwg and imported to the Quadri model).

When doing the design using Novapoint design modules, the working process is typically like this:

